my transporter bridge

To mark the 100th birthday of the Transporter Bridge mima has teamed up with the Evening Gazette to launch the My Transporter Bridge Competition.

To celebrate Teesside's much loved grade II-listed landmark bridge mima, Middlesbrough Institute of Modern Art, invites you to submit your very own My Transporter Bridge masterpiece.

Your designs need to incorporate the Transporter Bridge and can range from the most outrageous to the simplest, let your imagination run wild and get creative!

A panel of judges including Kate Brindley mima Director, Charlotte Wood founder member of mima's The Modern Times group, Karen McLauchlan Evening Gazette, Andy Preston Chairman at Middlesbrough & Teesside Philanthropic Foundation, Dave Allan author and Stephen Gill artist is tasked with choosing three winning designs and a handful of favourites from your creations.

We'll celebrate the winning designs and other favourites in a special My Transporter Bridge exhibition in November at mima followed by a My Transporter Bridge souvenir supplement in the Evening Gazette.

The competition is divided into three categories and is open to all ages – meaning everyone can have a go!

Categories:

2D - Colouring Sheet

Our artist designed colouring sheets have proved very popular at mima and are currently displayed in Centre Space, an area for mima visitors of all ages to draw, colour and play. Your colouring sheet needs to be a line drawing that we can reprint for others to colour in, on a white square piece of paper no bigger than 42cm square.

3D - Sculpture

Groups, families or individuals will have plenty of fun with the 3D category. From knitted bridges and junk sculptures to good old-fashioned matchstick building with no size restriction anything is possible in this category.

2D - Mixed Media

Put all your talents to the test with this category and get creative using a range of materials and techniques and with no size or material restrictions your 2D masterpiece will look fantastic! (Original hardcopies only please)

Prizes for one winner of each category include:

- The work displayed in mima, beautifully framed and labelled
- A great mima goody bag

To enter:
